We are delighted to share this unique and intrepid proposal. The invitation is to experience a retreat nourished by morning practices and more subtle inner work in the afternoons, with mountain walks and chants.

Anand Lok (www.anandlok.info) is the site chosen for this experience. Located 22km from Rishikesh, this retreat centre is wonderfully cozy, wild, and quiet. It enjoys a differentiated view and proximity to the Ganges River.

We will start the days by reviewing the central cleansing and purification kriyas. Then, the Ashtanga yoga practice will be guided by the teacher Santina Giardina-Chard, who is authorized level 2 by Sharath Yoga Ashtanga. The practice will be Mysore style, where Santina will support practitioners but is self-directed.

Santina offers precise anatomical and postural cues to stimulate each practitioner's somatic awareness, conscious intention and emotional expression.

To participate harmoniously, you must have a sequence of asanas to practice independently and without external direction. Ashtanga Vinyasa will be the predominant style, but other breath-based Vinyasa Krama sequences are welcome.

We will serve breakfast between 9 and 10 am and then have a rest until lunchtime, between 12.30pm and 1.30pm.

Afternoon inner life practices start at 4 p.m. and are guided by German Garro. He will share the wisdom of the ancient sages of India in a simple and practical way, bringing us closer to the message of the "Yoga Sutras of Patanjali" and facilitating the path of Bhakti Yoga and meditation.

Dinner will be served between 6.30 pm and 7.30 pm.

The retreat begins on (3pm) Apr 26 and finishes (after breakfast) May 2.
